Detailed Action

The amendment filed on 12-14-2006 has been entered.

Claims Objections

Claims 1-8 are objected to because of the following informalities:

- (1) In claim 1, line 11, "said first and second type" should read --said first and second types--
- (2) In claim 3, lines 2-3, "at least one restrainers" should read --at least one restrainer--
- (3) In claim 4, lines 1-2, "said restrainer or at least one of said restrainers" should read --said at least one restrainer-- (note claim 3).
- (4) In claim 6, line 2, "the at least one restrainers" should read --the at least one restrainer--

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Application/Control Number: 10/539,027

Art Unit: 3724

2. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

(1) In claim 7, line 3, "said at least one other restrainer" has no antecedent basis.

Claim Rejection - 35 U.S.C. 103(a)

- 1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Izumi (U.S. Patent No. 5,983,501) in view of Kadijk et al. (U.S. Patent Application Publication No. 2001/0039734).

Izumi discloses a shaving apparatus (10) comprising at least two shaving heads having internal cutting members (40) and associated external cutting members (12); a drive structure (18); means for effecting rotation including a control member (48,44) arranged between the at least two shaving heads and engaging the external cutting members (12) substantially as claimed except the external cutting members (12) do not have two different shaving fields for cutting short and long hair, respectively.

Kadijk et al. teach providing each external cutting member (4) of a shaving apparatus with a first shaving field (8) having apertures (10) of a first type for cutting short hair and with a second shaving field (7) having apertures (9) of a second type for cutting long hair.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to modify Izumi by providing each of the external cutting members (12) with two different types of apertures in which one type is for cutting long hairs (pre-shaving) and the other type is for cutting short hair (close shaving) to improve shaving performance as taught by Kadijk et al.

Indication of Allowable Subject Matter

- 1. Claims 2-6 and 8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
- 2. Claim 7 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Remarks

Applicant argues, at page 11 of the amendment, Izumi's outer cutters 12 are constantly rotating along with the inner cutters 40 and do not allow for specific shaving positions for the outer cutters as recited in Applicant's claim 1. In response, from a close reading of claim 1, it requires each of the external cutting members rotatable about an axis of rotation between at least two shaving positions. Clearly, each external cutting members (12) shown in Izumi does rotate about an axis. Further, the cutting members (12) are in a 360-degrees rotation, and the position of the internal cutting members (12) is constantly changing through a 360-degrees rotation. Therefore, the claim limitation of "each of said external cutting members is rotatable about an axis of rotation between at least two shaving positions" is meet. Izumi also shows means (44,48) for effecting rotation of each of the external cutting members (12) between said at least two shaving positions as claimed.

Action Made Final

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
